Lorelyn Morgan and Barrie Wood are making the most of Highlands life and sharing their talents with the community

With the Gull River providing a steady stream of background music for the symphony of wind rustling through the trees on a sunny September morning, Barrie Wood and Lorelyn Morgan need to do little more than sit in the kitchen of their snug riverside house and gesture around them to come up with an answer to the question they often be asked: "Why did you move back to Eagle Lake?"

Really, how could San Francisco compete with the smell of apple sauce, made with apples from their own tree, cooking on the stove?

What philharmonic orchestra sounds better than their 12-year-old daughter Maradyn practising upstairs on her harp?

Could there be any big city theatre production more entertaining than their nine-year-old daughter Cavell strutting into the room dressed in a bright yellow matador's outfit and announcing that for today at least, she's Carlos, born in Mexico and visiting in Canada?

Maybe the family might not put it in those terms, but after two years on the road as Wood played D'Arque in a travelling production of Beauty and the Beast, all four of them are intensely happy to be re-planting their Highlands roots.

"The road had done its thing and I had done enough of the road," says Wood, he of the apple sauce confection (and the freshly baked bread.) "Touring is for single people."

"When you spend a lot of time in big American cities and you remember what you have at home, with a river toodling by, the freedom for the kids, you wonder why you're pounding the urine-stained streets of the city," says Morgan, who was in the midst of packing for the family's annual canoe trip – the first trip which her husband was able to join in on for a long time.

Now, the real question about the move back to the Highlands is: "How can you make it feasible?"

Both Wood and Morgan are professional musicians. His forté is Broadway musicals: he was in the inaugural performance of Cats and in the Toronto productions of Crazy for You and Beauty and the Beast, as well as the two American touring productions of Beauty and the Beast.

Morgan has also done musicals – Carousel at the Shaw Festival – yet her national performing career ranges from oratorio, opera and concert work to television commercial.

She holds degrees in both music and education and has either trained or worked with some of the premiere names in Canadian music, such as David Fallis, Braynard Blyden-Taylor, Elmer Eisler and Seiji Ozawa. Her private teaching practice spans 25 years and for five years she taught vocal and instrumental music for the Scarborough Board of Education, during which time she was the assistant conductor of the All-Scarborough Choir and a member of the board's music curriculum design team.

Together, they were responsible for the sold-out Northern Lights Overture, the celebration of local talent that launched the Northern Lights Performing Arts Pavilion last summer.

The Pavilion notwithstanding, there are not many professional opportunities for them in the Highlands. It may be the place where they most want to live, but as always there's that catch. How do make a living here?

In a myriad of ways, actually, one of them being teaching.

Wood is in the process of transforming their garage into a dance studio. Here, in classes and private lessons, he'll teach the art of dance – latin and ballroom dancing, tap, jazz and musical theatre. Whether students are novices who've always wanted to dance the light fantastic or aspiring performers, Wood will help them bring out the star in them.

"Theatre is a projection of life... It's inserting yourself into others' lives."

Wood knows that many women might not need convincing that, for instance, they'd like to learn how to ballroom dance, but their husbands might be a tougher sell. How does he convince men to join up? "I talk to their wives," he smiles.

His other pitch is "we'll have fun and you'll learn how not to make a klutz of yourself."

The objective isn't a year-end recital – although there will

"I don't care what the talent level is. I have all the time in the world for the least talented person if they want to work."

Barrie Wood

likely be some sort of performance – but rather to marry aspirations and talents as people explore their love of dance. Perhaps there will be some way to bring all the disparate performances together, but that will evolve as the lessons evolve.

The level of instruction will vary as to the students' level of desire and commitment.

"What I demand is self-respect and respect of what we're doing," he says. "I don't care what the talent level is. I have all the time in the world for the least talented person if they want to work."

In exchange, Wood commits himself to providing a safe learning environment, bringing to the fore his years of experience as a dancer and choreographer.

"The way I approach teaching anything is that I want to conduct classes so that if the next Karen Cain walks through that door, she won't get hurt or have her training go in the wrong way."

Morgan will concentrate more on vocal and instrumental music. She teaches primary music for children as young as 18 months – at that age it's more of a social activity – as well as voice.

"Music has been proven by researchers to be connected to so many other parts of the brain" that developing a child's musical sensibilities also strengthens other aspects of learning, she says.

But development benefits aside, "for us, we just can't imagine life without it."

Wood notes that "with every culture there's been music created – it's needed."

As well as private lessons, Morgan will also conduct the Haliburton Children's Choir, which she helped to found with her friend and fellow musician Lauren McInnes of Haliburton. She also founded the Village Chamber Singers, a vocal group which she'll continue with now that she's back.

"We have the potential to do some things that are really good," they say of their excitement for all the possibilities which await this new life in the Highlands.

If you'd like to enquire about classes, please call Barrie Wood and Lorelyn Morgan at 754-9228.

Soyers Lake annual general meeting

Minden heeds call for change in fire services

MARTHA PERKINS

Editor

The following are brief reports of items discussed at the Sept. 3 annual general meeting of the Soyers Lake Property Owners Association at the PineStone.

For the first time in years, ratepayers did not have to lobby to get Dysart et al's firefighters to be the first to be called to a fire.

Anson, Hindon and Minden Deputy-reeve Gerald Rome was pleased to announce that after months of negotiations, a contract had been signed between Minden and Dysart to put such an agreement in place.

Because Soyers Lake is in Minden, Minden's firefighters had been the first to respond to a call, even though Dysart's firefighters, based in Haliburton village, were much closer.

Soyers Lake ratepayers had long argued that political boundaries should not impinge on their right to have the closest department respond to a fire call. They argued there was more chance of their cottage or home being saved if firefighters had the least distance to travel, and that their fire insurance rates were high because of the distance to the Minden fire base.

Under the system hammered out by Rome and a special committee, Soyers Lake ratepayers will still phone the Minden fire department, which will in turn notify the Haliburton fire department. Fire crews will be dispatched immediately from Haliburton, to be replaced by the Minden firefighters once they arrive.

For a cost of $400 per call, Dysart has guaranteed a minimum of two trucks and 10 men.

"We're getting a real bargain," Rome said, noting that there's an average of two fire calls a year on Soyers Lake so the cost won't be a burden to the municipality.

Burt Tait, one of the most vocal proponents for the change, thanked Rome for all of his work on the project. "We all feel safer for the work you've done."

One man noted he had already told his insurance broker about the change and had had $200 taken off his bill because a closer fire department would respond to a call. (Another woman later told him it had saved her $1,000 in insurance fees.)

Soyers Lake hasn't been as lucky in being able to find a way to allow its ratepayers to use the Dysart landfill in Haliburton as opposed to having to travel to AHM's sites in Ingoldsby or Minden. The Ministry of Environment won't allow garbage to cross municipal borders.

Anthon praised

Jeanne Anthon, who is retiring from municipal politics when her term of AHM Reeve expires in November, was applauded for all the work she's done over her many years in office.

"We have been extremely fortunate to have you serve (the municipality)," Tait told her. "You brought so much experience to the job and have demonstrated an unerring sense of determining what's best."

The association wished her happiness in retirement.

"It's been an honour to serve you," she responded.

Reeve's report

Anthon was pleased to report that the Blairhampton Road will be resurfaced next year - if the new council of the newly amalgamated municipality agrees with the works schedule. She agreed the work was very necessary and said the residents had "gone beyond the level of tolerance."

She encouraged everyone to fill in and mail their election ballots as soon as they receive them at the end of October to ensure the municipality receives them by November 10. (The post office will be closed on election day, November 13, because of a statutory holiday in lieu of Remembrance Day.)

She also encouraged everyone to read over the county's draft Official Plan and send any comments or concerns to the county office by the September 15 deadline.

Water quality

Soyers Lake's water quality has improved over the years. Results from sechi disc and phosphorous testing now warrant the lake the status of "unenriched", which is better than its previous status as moderately enriched, Ross Partridge reported. Two-thirds of all lakes taking part in the water-testing program are unenriched, he reported.

As to the quality of the water coming out of their taps, Partridge said that although everyone is on well water, chlorination treatment is possible. He also demonstrated a water testing kit available from hardware stores. He found it to be more effective than taking a bottle to the health unit for testing.

"Disaster struck" in mid-June when two baby loons disappeared apparently after a confrontation between two adult loons, perhaps over territory.

"That was a real shock," said Partridge, who every year keeps an eye out for the successful raising of chicks.

One woman asked why no whippoorwills were heard on the lake; Partridge didn't have a specific reason to offer, but said it might be because of fluctuating cycles.

Soyers Lake does participate in bird surveys.

FOCA

Dennis Good told everyone about an initiative by the Federation of Ontario Cottagers' Associations to encourage people to buy four-stroke boat engines instead of two-stroke engines.

The two-stroke engine was invented in the 1940s and 40% of its exhaust is unburnt fuels. It pollutes more and consumes more gas. FOCA also encourages people to honour their responsibility in ensuring their septic system works properly and efficiently. As well, "when-ever someone new comes to the lake, please stress the importance of a proper septic system."

Roads

Soyers Lake is willing to contribute $500 towards the installation of a streetlight at the corner of Blairhampton Road and County Road 121. Primrose Birrell said safety could be improved by re-installing the easy-to-read Poverty Bay sign that used to be at the intersection.

Membership

Membership is down from last year's 138 to approximately 115, resulting in less money in the association's coffers. The balance in the bank is about $400.

Newsletter help

Pengelly would appreciate more input into the newsletter. Ratepayers were encouraged to contribute stories and ideas pertinent to life on the lake.

In memoriam

A moment of silence paid tribute to Bonnie Stocker and Major Don Campbell, two lake residents who passed away since the last annual general meeting.

Frost Centre hosts woodlot management workshop

The Leslie M Frost Natural Resources Centre is hosting a one-day workshop called 'Management Options For Your Woodlot', Friday, September 15, from 8:30 am to 3:30 pm.

The 'Stewardship Series' workshop offers a variety of strategies to woodlot management, designed to appeal to landowners and cottagers. Forest and wildlife values and forest management terminology will be discussed to make this a unique and informative day. Participants will hike a Frost Centre trail to gain hands-on experience on how to assess tree defects and select trees for removal, and how to use a prism to determine basal area. As well, there will be a field trip where participants will be bused to the Dorset area to explore a woodlot that was selective cut four years ago. Wildlife values will be viewed including Red Tailed Hawk and Red Shouldered Hawk nests, a winter deer yard and nesting cavities for many different species.

Sponsored by the Haliburton Highlands Stewardship Council and the Parry Sound/Muskoka Stewardship Network, this is the third of five workshops in the 'Stewardship Series' designed for anyone planning and conducting work projects on private lands. The next workshop entitled 'Furbearer Facts' will be held on November 24.

Pre-registration is required, the cost is $10 per person per day, taxes included. Participants can bring a lunch or purchase a lunch at the Frost Centre at an additional cost of $10.93 (please register in advance at 705-766-2451).

For more information or to register for the 'Stewardship Series' workshops, please contact Leslie M Frost Natural Resources Centre at (705) 766-2451 or visit www.frostcentre.on.ca

Continue eating and keep your metabolism up

In spite of what you may have heard, starving yourself to lose weight will not work. If you keep yourself from getting hungry, your metabolism will stay elevated, but if you starve yourself it will drop. What happens when you starve yourself and do not give your body the food it needs for energy, your body actually starts to store the fat and not burn it off. If you feed your body and keep it from getting to the point of starvation, you will always be burning fat.

Think about your car - it needs gas to drive right? Well, your body is the same way - it needs the energy from food to work. So, next time you go on a "diet" think about your car and you won't be so tempted to starve yourself.

It is also important to give your body the right energy, eg fruits, veggies, dairy or soya, proteins, grains, and, of course, the most important is water. You need to drink 8 - 10 eight-ounce glasses of water a day to keep your body hydrated, which means everything functions properly and keeps your skin clear. If you are active, you need to drink even more water.

One hundred and twenty helium-filled balloons took flight on August 12th at the Monmouth Agricultural Fair. Prizes were awarded to seller, purchaser, and finder of the most well traveled balloon. Christopher Tighe's winner touched down in Kingsport Tennessee. Others landed in Ohio, Coldwater, Lake Couchiching and points between. Fair Director Ken Sanderson called the event "a great success" with over $200 raised to support Ontario's smallest agricultural fair.

Elementary shares principal

The Wilberforce and Gooderham schools have been "twinned" this year. Mrs. Georgina Boyle has the responsibility of being principal for both schools. She has been principal at Gooderham over the past several years. We welcome her to Wilberforce and wish her well in taking on double administrative duties. On even days she will be in Gooderham, 8:00 to 11:00, and Wilberforce, 11:30 to 4:30. On odd days she will be in Wilberforce, 8:00 to 1:00, and in Gooderham, 1:30 - 4:30. Of course, unforeseen emergencies may sometimes cause changes.

Junior and Senior Kindergarten will be taught by Terri Lynn (Barry) Holden. These children will be attending school on even number days this year. All classrooms have split grades. New is Krista McCracken teaching Grades 1 and 2, Chris Lynd has Grades 2/3. Also new on staff teaching Grades 4/5 as well as French and music is Daniel Lee. Laura Scheffee teaches the Grades 5/6 class. Educational assistants Melanie Storey and Sandi Winder are back on deck. Shelley Godfrey, secretary, and Bill Stevens, custodian, have also returned.

Mrs. Boyle looks forward to a good year with 121 students currently enrolled. Emphasis will be on a positive school climate where students respect and care for each other and where all feel safe and comfortable, ready and willing to learn. Best wishes to all for a good year.

School pictures will be taken on Wednesday, September 20 starting at 9 a.m. The bus loading and unloading area has been moved to the side of the school on the little road so that there is less confusion on the road in front of the school in the morning and after school with buses and cars.

The Monmouth Seniors Club, which begins weekly meetings, Tuesday, September 12, has as its executive: president Elsie Lewis, secretary Verna Ablett, treasurer Ed Loft, corresponding secretary Bessie Godfrey, vice presidents Gertrude Godfrey and Warren Bowen, and past president Floyd Tighe. New members are welcome.

The Wilberforce school's Barbecue Open House will be held September 21 starting at 5 pm. This is a family night, a great time for parents, teachers, principal and other staff to meet informally.

Rail's end Gallery showcases work of well-travelled artist Louise Cass

Many of Louise Cass' paintings are influenced by her love of the Normandy area of France. They can be seen at the Rail's End Gallery starting September 16.

by Shannon Maguire

From September 16th until October 14th, the Rail's End Gallery is pleased to be exhibiting the work of Louise Cass, a well learned artist of our time.

Louise Cass has loved art since Arthur Lismer and William Armstrong taught her at the Saturday morning children's classes in Montreal. Since then she has studied and travelled all over eastern Canada and Europe. Many of her instructors said she was creating art reminiscent of Van Gogh.

Cass studied at the Montreal Museum of Fine Art and Design School before venturing to England and the Central School of Arts and Crafts. After England she travelled to Florence, where she ventured into abstractions. Following the birth of her two daughters, Cass once again sought academia. She studied photography before attending McGill University and receiving her Master of Arts in the Classics Department.

Cass' paintings are responses to what she chooses to look at, such as landscapes that have been touched by human hands over the millennia.

"Certain rather inexplicable, and perhaps mysterious, emotions are aroused by these buildings, gardens and countrysides where people have walked."

Her work reflects her love of travel and the memories she has collected over the years. It is the "visceral" responses to recognition that Cass would like to evoke on canvass.

The Normandy series came to her after years of visiting relatives in Normandy. At first all she saw were the cliché castles and villages. Then after time, Cass began to see the villages and small towns, in spite of the damages of many wars, had retained a beautiful architectural cohesiveness.

Cass is also fascinated by the genre of still life and interiors, which she paints as a contrast and complement to her landscapes.

Please come to the Rails' End Gallery, Haliburton, from the 16th of September to the 14th of October to enjoy the works of this fabulous artist.

A little ball and a few hot dogs

It was fun for all ages at the Haliburton Mixed Lob Ball league had their end of season wrap up playoffs and BBQ in West Guilford on Sunday.

Autumn routines return to Eagle Lake community

A September hush has drifted over our hamlet. The children with their bicycles, roller-blades and skateboards have disappeared from the streets. The beach park languishes deserted and still in the September sunshine, boat launch pad empty, parking lot void of cars. Local teachers have been psyching up for weeks preparing for this end of summer transformation and now the children, decked out with new wardrobe, new equipment, and an inch taller than last spring, have joined them in school.

Meanwhile, we at home gear up for fall activities, and enjoy the sudden accessibility of parking areas in town.

The winner of the quilt draw, sponsored by the Eagle Lake Women's Association was Gail Vanderhorst of Oshawa. Our thanks to all who supported this draw, it being our chief money-raiser of the year.

On Thursday, September 14 at 11 am, there will be a short dedication ceremony at the eagle sculpture on Sir Sam's Road. Present will be the involved local dignitaries including our own designed/artists Sigi and Sergio Zrinscak. It is hoped that as many as possible will turn out for this history-making event.

Also on this day, Thursday, September 14, the annual luncheon of the Eagle Lake Women's Association will be held at The Bistro at noon. We welcome new members and hope that new arrivals in the village will join us for the first meeting of a new season.

We are presently without a resident pastor and church services feature guest speakers. On Sunday, September 14, it will be our own Sandy Stevens. Saturday, October 14, the church elders are planning a one-day Vision Planning Retreat for everyone. Further details will be announced later.

The Rhubarb Committee, under the chairmanship of Donna Medland, has begun plans for Festival 10, in July 2001. To keep the community better informed of local events, it is proposed to issue a quarterly newsletter, the first to be published and in your mail boxes, thanks to the editorial efforts of Georgienna Boyle, by Thanksgiving.

Our community is growing and changing more rapidly than we are aware of and what can be done to make us all a cohesive entity for the community welfare. We, as a committee, welcome input from you. Do contact us.

First LIFT meeting of the season draws a full house

LIFT, Ladies in Fellowship Together, has begun again, the monthly meeting of the West Guilford Baptist Church ladies and which all women in the community are welcome.

Speaker of the month was Carol Hogg of Brantford on Thursday, September 7. Shirley Gojdos supplied the music. Theme for the evening was Sally Craig's presentation of "Getting Into Gear". Sally represents Balanced Fashions Inc.

It was a full house for this first meeting and the same can be expected of each one on the first Thursday of every month.

Another change on the north shore of Pine Lake happened with Elsie Henderson's move to Oshawa where most of her family lives. She will be missed at the centre and we trust she will find life in Oshawa satisfactory.

Renovations are going on along our road with an extension to the Freeman (formerly Lorne Cooper's) house next door and some renovations across from Hlywkas to the Landry cottage.

Scottish Country Dancing is once again at the JD Hodgson school on Monday evenings. We had enjoyed the Stanhope fire hall facility very much in the summer weeks.

Our condolences to Colleen Beaudry in the loss of her sister, Sandra Lynn Brigg, on August 24.

Congratulations to Robert Van Nood on his wonderful mural painted and unveiled in Minden.

Although I haven't seen it, the comments from those who have indicate superior work by this artist.

Yvonne and Lou Vesh have the company this week of Yvonne's sister, Mary and her husband Don Mulawysyn of Thunder Bay before the couple leaves on their way to Georgetown, NB to see their son who is in military service there.

Children across the county, perhaps even young IGA shopper Rob Lewis, will benefit from the "round-up" program at Haliburton IGA. For the past nine weeks, shoppers have been able to round up their grocery bills by electronically donating their change to Family Services of Haliburton County. Last week, owner Bob Park, holding Rob, presented the first cheque for $500 to Barb Fraser and Fay Martin of Family Services. The money will be used for community projects involving children, not necessarily clients of the social service agency. The program, which is also offered at Wilberforce IGA, is ongoing.

Diane Austin has been chosen as Kinmount's Citizen of the Year for all of her efforts in making the village a better place.

The winner is chosen by a committee of Kinmount Lions based on nomination letters from community members. She was presented with a plaque and $100 for her favourite charity at a ceremony at the Kinmount Fair.

Austin was born and raised in the Township of Galway, the youngest of eight children to Peter and Anne Pearson. After graduating from the Fenelon Falls High school, she attended the Peterborough Teachers' College and taught school for both the Toronto and Peterborough Separate School Boards. In 1970, she returned to Kinmount to marry her high school sweetheart, John Austin. The Austins have two daughters and are proud that both have returned to Kinmount to live with their families.

Austin worked for the Victoria County School Board for 25 years as an elementary school teacher. Three-quarters of her career was spent teaching at the Kinmount Public School. As an active member of her community and an advocate for Kinmount, she looks back fondly on the time she worked at the local school. She pledged to install community values and pride in each of the students whom she taught throughout her career.

For the past seven years, Diane has been a member of the Kinmount Committee for Planning and Economic Development, most recently as chairperson. The committee is working very hard towards the refurbishment of the Austin Sawmill and has successfully complete many beautification projects around the village, not the least of which is the creation of the Austin Sawmill Heritage Park.

Austin is driven by her love of the community and her desire to have everyone be proud of our village: Kinmount is her passion.

The KCPED is not the only organization of which Austin is a member. Indeed, she is also an active participant on the Kinmount Library Board, the Community Centre Management Board, the Kinmount Artisans Guild and Marketplace, Health and Safety Board of the Township of Somerville, the Ontario Trillium Foundation, and the Task Force for Libraries and Culture of the City of Kawartha Lakes. She enjoys her community service and takes great pride in her contributions at the local level.

At a ceremony as part of the Kinmount Fair, Doug King of the Kinmount Lions Club presented Dianne Austin with a Citizen of the Year plaque and gifts.

Scouts Canada seeking kids and adults to get involved with popular youth program

by SHEILA LAKE

Scouts Canada wishes to announce they are coming to Coboconk. We are seeking youth and adults of all ages, to become part of an exciting Beaver, Cub or Scout program. Registration will take place on September 13. The location to be announced.

Anyone wishing more information on the youth program, or wishing to volunteer, or act as a leader can contact Debbie Schell at 705-454-1420 or Jack Haydock at 705-786-1464 or Helen Hawkins at 705-324-8618. This is a good way to keep the young folks busy and have lots of fun.

The open air outdoor music services at the IGA parking lot every Sunday night in July and August, were well attended.

Congratulations to Annie Robertson who was guest of honour for her 80th birthday recently.

The Anglican Church ladies are preparing a great hot pancake breakfast on Saturday, September 2, at the church hall. Always a great hot breakfast.

To Hilda Leitman and family, our deepest sympathy in the death of her husband Leslie on August 5.

Sympathy goes out also to the family of Laurine Bradamore, who passed away on August 16, and to Shirley Patterson, in the death of her husband Ross Allan Patterson on August 3.

Pat Clements was the winner of the Wednesday, August 16th $100 grocery draw at Coboconk IGA.

The annual Pinegrove cemetery decoration day was held at the cemetery at Norland on August 20.

Twirlers attend Square Dance convention in BC

by Jack Cox

Eight couples from the Haliburton Highlands Twirlers Square Dance Club attended the 12th Canadian National Square and Round Dance Convention in Vancouver, BC on July 20, 21 and 22, at the Canada Place Convention Centre. They were also joined by two former Twirlers, Helen and Ron Berry.

This convention is held every two years in a Canadian city and has an international following. There were 3,600 dancers in attendance from 17 countries from around the world, some being Sweden, Belgium, Germany, Japan, Saudi Arabia and, naturally, a large contingent from USA.

At the parade of club banners during the opening ceremonies, there were at least 138 banners including ours carried by Bill and Edna Wark, our club presidents.

The convention started with a Trail-in Dance. The next three days, the dancing started at 10 a.m. and finished at 11 p.m. There were six to eight levels of square dancing most of the time. There also was round dancing, contra dancing, clogging and workshops on dancing, sewing and calling. These activities required the use of 14 halls and ballrooms, at the same time.

At times, the Twirlers found it challenging dancing to callers from other countries, even from Japan. All the calling was in English, but some of the accents were difficult to understand. Even when we messed up, we still had fun.

The next convention will be in Saint John, New Brunswick in July 2002.

Those attending from the Haliburton Highland Twirlers were Bill and Edna Wark, Ralph Mintz and Liv Anderson, Jack and Willie Cox, Gerry and Barbara Dawson, Rick and Rhonda Elstone, Jim and Patricia Krasovec, Jim and Marlene Taylor, and Marvin and Lorraine Varty.

For those who are interested in learning to square dance, classes are Thursday evenings starting September 7.

Bill and Edna Wark, presidents of the Haliburton Highland Twirlers, carried the banner during the opening exercises at a recent conference in Vancouver, attended by eight couples of the local dancing group.

712 CARDS OF THANKS

I WOULD LIKE to thank the doctors, nurses and staff of the Haliburton Hospital for their wonderful care and kindness. Special thanks to Dr. Ferracuti, the ambulance drivers - Haliburton and Huntsville, can't all their names; my wonderful family and many friends for their support, cards & phone calls. God bless you. Cecil Robinson.

THANK YOU ALL! The Youth Group Committee of Gooderham would like to thank everyone that supported our Kids Summer Program: the Council of Glamorgan Township for their support and encouragement; the Heart Connection for the generous loan of tennis equipment and play gear which left us all breathless - either from the running or the laughter; special thank you to Shawn Stoughton who so generously DJ'd two successful dances for our kids and who also was the official water supplier for our really, really wet water games; to Nora Pasley for donating prizes for our Summer Starter Dance; to the teens of Gooderham who came out to help and coach; a heap of thanks to all the parents and grandparents that took a turn supervising and coaching an evening or two of play; to our gardening crew that spruced up the flower beds of the Gooderham Elementary School and the biggest thank you to the kids. Thanks for sharing your smiles, your laughter and the fun - you've made it all worthwhile.

712 CARDS OF THANKS

THE FAMILY OF the late Roy H. Boughner would like to thank the many friends for their prayers and kindness shown to the family during Roy's illness and following his death. Thank you to everyone who sent cards, flowers, donations, food and the many phone calls and visits. A special thank you for the compassion shown to Roy and family by the fire dept., ambulance attendants, doctors and nurses who cared for Roy at hospital. Thanks to Molly from Haliburton Community Funeral Home who treated us with kindness. We would also like to thank Rev.
